Lyrics by MARY M. HOPEWELL

Music by ABBIE NORTON JAMISON

1. There's a
2. O the

Roll.

land with its sweet-scented mead - ows, Where the hills and the val - leys are land that is roll - ing and fer - tile, Where the grains and the grass - es are green, Where the east and the west meet in splen - dor, In the grown, And the land with its rich - es and glo - ry is Ne - vale of a beau - ti - ful scene. 'Tis Ne - bras - ka, the home of de - bras - ka, Ne - bras - ka, my own. 'Tis Ne - bras - ka whose em - blem shines vo - tion, Fair Ne - bras - ka where - ev - er I roam; I shall bright - ly In the Star - Span - gled Ban - ner so true, And whose cher - ish and love thee for - ev - er, O Ne - bras - ka, Ne - bras - ka, my pa - tri - ots stand for de - vo - tion To the Flag of the Red, White and home. There's a land where the cli - mate is fair - est, Where the Blue, O the birds of Ne - bras - ka sing sweet - est, For they sky is the clear - est of blue, Where the glow of the sun - set is sing of the land of the blest, And they sing of the grains and the gold - en, And the beau - ty en - chant - ing to view. 'Tis Ne - mend - ous Of Ne - bras - ka, the gem of the west. Fair Ne - bras - ka, the home of con - tent - ment; 'Tis Ne - bras - ka, the great - est and best; O the bras - ka, the home of de - vo - tion; Fair Ne - bras - ka where - ev - er I roam, I shall land I shall cher - ish for - ev - er Is Ne - bras - ka, the gem of the west, cher - ish and love thee for - ev - er, O Ne - bras - ka, Ne - bras - ka, my home,
